

HOW CUBAN AND CHILLO MUST GO TO ELLIS ISLAND

Wife of Sugar Merchant Has $2,500 in Purse—Girl's Spine Weak.

Mrs. Christina Antena, wife of a wealthy Cuban sugar merchant, arrived from Havana yesterday on the steamship Barataria, accompanied by her four children and two servants, and having in her possession $2,500, which she had brought to defray the expenses of a medical examination of her youngest child, a three-year-old girl, who has been suffering from spinal weakness from birth.

To her great amazement and indignation she was told that because of the spinal trouble of her child, she and her family must go to Ellis Island today to await a further examination of the little invalid. The party was directed to stay on board overnight.

The Barataria did not get to her pier until late Sunday night, and the child, Maria Rios, was found to be suffering from some kind of rash. After a long detention in quarantine, the child and her aunt were sent to Hoffman Island for observation.
